

Hello,

I please ask that you, the FCC, intervene with Sinclair broadcasting and not allow them to force 62 television stations to run a clearly partisan film, whose sole aim is to discredit a decorated war veteran.

This is the obvious danger of media consolidation and must not be allowed to happen. It is one thing to air or provide programming to television stations that may or may not be partisan, it is another to require television stations to force a partisan film down the public's throat. It is not right.

If Bush or Kerry are to win the election, they should win because of their merits, not because of carefully calculated misinformation and lies.

Thank you.
